

We all know how easy it is to register to vote in Massachusetts. With changes in election laws recently, it has been made easier. The Elections Division website has all the resources that voters need, but the web addresses are not always easy to remember.

I have created an easy to remember nonpartisan gateway webpage at www.123voter.com that connects voters to all that they need to check their voter status, register to vote, find their polling place and if they cannot get to the polls how to absentee vote. This is a gateway. The voter is brought directly to the Elections Division webpage.

My intent is to have a common, easy to remember web address. I am hoping that the clerk and elections community as well as nonpartisan groups will use and promote this address for voters convenience. I used .com rather than .org because most people think .com when they are on the web. The name 123voter is shorthand for '1...2...3...you're a voter" and the 123 also made me think about the Minutemen.

Please feel free to use and promote the address if you believe that it will benefit the residents of your community. If you see any changes that could improve the webpage, let me know.

Again, the gateway address is: www.123voter.com
